Karma Coin

A Solana-based digital currency that channels community capital into real-world impact

Litepaper

2025

A community-governed Solana token that turns collective votes into verifiable real-world impact—no hype, just results.

No Paid Team

No C-Level draining the project's capital

No Paid Ads

No ads, shills, or giveaway campaigns.

Doesn't pay for product development or utility.

No delays, dev jams, capital flows directly to real-world work

No Inflation

No staking rewards, emissions, or yield programs that dilute holders.

Lean by design: more of every dollar reaches the ground.

Why $Karma?

Our Vision

Regenerate our planet, nourish communities, and reduce harm—real projects, real proofs, real impact. Together we repair what's broken and protect what remains, one community-led decision at a time. Order-book–gated unlocks on MEXC: visible, price-tiered tranches fill only when demand is present—milestones, not clocks.

A revolutionary DAO: supply expands only when the market is ready—no calendar dumps.

Our Mission

Turn transparency into power.

Use blockchain to show every decision and transfer, and give people a direct vote in what gets funded.

Make impact traceable and governance open, so communities direct resources and hold results to account.

Token

1 Billion Max. Supply

Community Leaders Vote

Order-book–gated unlocks on MEXC at published price tiers.

As each sell wall is bought up on MEXC, tokens enter circulation and the treasury receives USDT for allocation.

Tranches are posted as MEXC limit orders; only filled orders enter circulation and convert to USDT for DAO allocation.

No distributions to holders are promised or implied. Any surplus-to-treasury action requires a public vote and may never occur.

Governance

Pre-unlock requirement: 12 Town Halls (≥45 min each) before posting the first unlock orders. Projects must deliver clear, measurable impact, show a path to self-sustainability, and commit to monthly proof-of-impact. Community Leaders decide which projects get funded and how treasury tokens are stored, spent, and invested.

Regular Town Halls will be hosted as open sessions where community leaders review proposals, ask questions, and vote. Founders don't vote; they facilitate and execute community decisions.

Open Invitation for Community Hosts

Town Halls run on an open, widely used venue selected by the community; platform choice is reviewed by vote. Sessions are announced, recorded, and paired with simple, verifiable voting; minutes and on-chain links are posted.

It's an open invitation to community hosts: help run inclusive, well-moderated conversations where proposals are clear and decisions are visible.
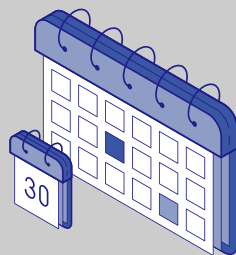

Projects

Proposals are submitted via Karma Coin's official platforms and social channels with a short brief. They are pre-screened for clarity and commitment before being listed for community leaders to review.

Participation is needed to fund a project

Accurate bookkeeping

Monthly proof of impact and results

Contact

Official social channels and a dedicated email intake will publish Town Hall schedules, proposal shortlists, voting windows, and monthly impact roundups.
